As the car rushed on toward the North river, the women and the lit le girl screamed and cowered back in their sects. The chaufteur tried in vain to turn into Eleventh avenue, and the car west on down the length of the pier and, striking the attinguises at the and jurged a ing the stringpiece at the end, turned a omersault into the river. Just before reaching the end of the pier the man sitting with the chauff ur jumped and, landing safely, ran away. The man, two women and a girl in the tonneau were drowned. The chauffeur, after going down with the automobile, freed himself and swam to the pier. He was pulled out by men on the pier, and he also rin away.

The car was a Renault, belonging to Mrs. C. S. E'ebash, the widow of Dr. Clarence Summers Elebash, an eye and ear specialist, who died about four years ago. She is to be married this. ago. She is to be married this week to Bedell H. Harned, private secretary for Frank J. Gou'd Her chauffeur, John Baner, had been told to take the car to a garge for repairs, but instead of deing so he invited John Nolan, Mrs. Rosis Coleman, Adeline Berdon and Virginia Knight, 8 years old, to take a rid with him. As stated above, the two women and the little girl were drowned by the Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

The Hudson Valley Farmers' Asso. cistion holds its convention in Ossining, and on Wednesday there will be a fire men's parade, and, in honor of these event, the village is in gala attire. Physica decorated his office with American fisgs, and then, as an afterthought, he placed the Confederate flag above them. Commander Smith demanded that it be removed, but as Physics was not in his office, the veteran took it down himself. Smith declares the flag shall not float in that village.

Physics says he is as good a citizen of the United States at Smith or any of those who object to the flag. It looked so pretty to him, he said, and he thought it would add beauty to the decorations on the building.
